

The custom-cabinetry in the entryway provides the perfect flow through to the living area, where ultra-sleek furnishings and lighting add to the informal ambiance of a casual, sophisticated vacation retreat.

Adjacent to the grounds of the luxurious Boca Raton Beach Club sits a contemporary 4,000-square-foot European-inspired condominium that basks in glorious ocean views. Designed by Jody Smith of Brown's Interior Design, this 3-bedroom, 3-bath minimalist appointed, yet classically styled home exudes comfort and practical elegance. Smith fashioned the home with simple furnishings and a neutral color palette speckled with sea green and sky blue accents to convey a relaxed beach house vibe with sophisticated flair. Smith's coastal interior scheme gives a nod to the natural beauty of sunrises and sunsets and the sights and the smells of the sea in this spectacular peninsular location.

The opulent French-braided mirror by Howard Elliott in the entryway reflects light creating an illusion of spaciousness that extends to the living area. Here, a modern and sleek, chocolate-brown armchair from Cassina holds court in the living space while perched atop a stepping-stone inspired area rug from Ligne Pure. Nearby, the dining table encourages relaxed meals and informal entertaining.

The inviting open patio is resplendent with Dedon's supple cushioned leather sofas that welcome casual conversation, while the Intracoastal and the Atlantic Ocean beckon to guests for attention.

"The homeowner is from Europe and he travels quite frequently," Smith says. "He wanted his living space to be a user-friendly environment with timeless pieces that mirrors the regal simplicity of the building's architecture." In keeping with the homeowner's desires, the final result is a tranquil, elegant vacation retreat with a touch of relaxed, beach house flavor.
